Carvana customers can save valuable time and money with The New Way to Buy a Car® by skipping the dealership and shopping online. As the pioneer of online car buying, Carvana gives customers a high-definition, 360-degree virtual tour of every vehicle, inside and out. And Carvana never adds hidden, last-minute fees and charges like "documentation fees."

To give customers the peace of mind and time to confirm that their vehicle fits their needs, all 30,000+ vehicles in Carvana's national inventory come with a seven-day return policy. This upgrade to the traditional test-drive allows customers to live with their vehicle for a whole week, to see how it handles the terrain up to Sehome Hill Arboretum, or test the fuel efficiency on a longer trip up I5 to Vancouver.

Customers can also trade in or sell a vehicle by simply entering their VIN or license plate number on Carvana.com, answering a few questions, and Carvana can pick the vehicle up and bring them a check, as soon as the next day.

Carvana vehicles have passed a rigorous 150-point inspection, have never been in a reported accident and have no frame damage. Features, imperfections, and updated information about open safety recalls are listed on every car's vehicle description page.

"As we bring The New Way to Buy a Car® to more residents across Washington state, we're confident that the Bellingham community will embrace the ease and transparency we offer," said Ernie Garcia, founder and CEO of Carvana. "We look forward to bringing a great selection of vehicles at great prices, with as-soon-as-next-day delivery, to more people across the Pacific Northwest."

Carvana now offers as-soon-as-next-day vehicle delivery to customers in 296 cities across the U.S.

About Carvana (NYSE: CVNA)

Founded in 2012 and based in Phoenix, Carvana's (NYSE: CVNA) mission is to change the way people buy cars.
