"Carvana's new same day vehicle delivery option is just one example of how we're constantly evolving to deliver an even better auto retail experience," says Matt Dundas, Carvana Senior Director of Finance. "Customers have already come to expect the ease, transparency and convenience of online ordering and financing from Carvana. Now, many can also expect same-day delivery speed on thousands of vehicles in their area. It's now possible to have a vehicle in your driveway before your Amazon order arrives."

Initially launched in Arizona, Carvana plans to roll out its new offering in select markets across its nationwide footprint in the coming months.

The capabilities making this possible include Carvana's extensive infrastructure – including a nationwide network of inspection and reconditioning centers and a robust, efficient logistics fleet – combined with its digitally native purchasing and underwriting that has simplified and accelerated important elements of the online car buying process.

Carvana's integrated online auto retail experience facilitates financing, insurance, warranty and service as well as selling or trading in a vehicle. Consumers enthusiastically endorsed its approach and made Carvana the fastest growing used automotive retailer in U.S. history. Carvana's new same day process means that customers can purchase from a wide selection of pre-owned vehicles, get pre-qualified and approved in as little as two to three minutes all online, and in a matter of hours, Carvana can drop off the new car and take the old one away if selling or trading it in.
