Carvana customers shop for and purchase their next vehicle entirely online, saving valuable time and money. Every Carvana vehicle is Carvana Certified, meaning it has no frame damage, has never been in a reported accident, and has undergone a rigorous 150-point inspection. Features, imperfections and updated information about open safety recalls are listed on the car's vehicle description page. Along with high-definition, 360-degree photos, every Carvana vehicle comes with a seven-day return policy so the customer has time to ensure the vehicle fits their life.

"Tulsa has a metro population approaching 1 million people, yet maintains a warm and welcoming local culture," said Ernie Garcia, founder and CEO of Carvana. "We're looking forward to expanding our Oklahoma presence into Tulsa and showing area residents the new way to buy a car, whether you're a life-long resident or a newcomer, like us."

Carvana first launched in Oklahoma in June 2017, offering as-soon-as-next-day delivery to Oklahoma City area residents. Now adding Tulsa to its ever-growing market list, Carvana has a presence in more than 75 cities across the U.S.

About Carvana (NYSE: CVNA)

Founded in 2012 and based in Phoenix, Carvana's (NYSE: CVNA) mission is to change the way people buy cars.
