Instead of wasting an entire Saturday at the dealership, customers can shop a national inventory of more than 10,000 vehicles on their own terms, from the comfort of home or on the go via their mobile device. Their chosen vehicle is then delivered to their driveway with a seven-day test-own period to determine if the vehicle fits their life. All vehicles on Carvana.com are Carvana Certified and have passed a rigorous 150-point inspection, have never been in a reported accident and have no frame damage. All features, imperfections and updated information about open safety recalls are listed on the car's vehicle description page. And, Carvana customers have shown how pleased they are with the new way to buy a car – rating the company an average of 4.7 out of five stars across more than 14,000 verified third-party reviews.

“Denver is increasingly getting attention for its tech hub attributes, and its residents deserve to keep pace with the city in which they live and work,” said Ernie Garcia, founder and CEO of Carvana. “We’re proud to provide a solution for their car buying needs with our no-haggle, online approach and free, as-soon-as-next-day vehicle delivery.”

Carvana has delivered vehicles to customers in 48 states, and offers free, as-soon-as next-day delivery to residents in 56 markets: Albuquerque (N.M.), Atlanta, Augusta (Ga.), Austin (Texas), Bakersfield (Calif.), Baltimore, Birmingham (Ala.), Bridgeport (Conn.), Charlotte (N.C.), Charleston (S.C.), Chattanooga (Tenn.), Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbia (S.C.), Columbus (Ohio), Corpus Christi (Texas), Dallas, Detroit, Ft.
