Carvana can save customers valuable time and money, allowing them to skip the dealership and shop from the comfort of home or on the go via their mobile device. Carvana vehicles come with a seven-day return policy, giving customers the time to ensure the vehicle fits their life; an upgrade to the traditional test-drive. Whether you're a BYU student heading home for the weekend or just want to see how it handles on your daily commute, you get a week to live with your vehicle.

Carvana pioneered online car buying, including its patented 360-degree virtual vehicle tour, where customers can view vehicles in high-definition, inside and out. Carvana vehicles are Carvana Certified, having passed a rigorous 150-point inspection, have never been in a reported accident and have no frame damage. Features, imperfections and updated information about open safety recalls are listed on every car's vehicle description page.

Customers looking to trade in their vehicle, or sell a vehicle, can also skip the dealership by entering their VIN or license plate number on Carvana.com, answer a few questions and Carvana can pick up the vehicle and bring them a check, as soon as the next day.

"Today marks our third launch this week, alone, in the Beehive state," said Ernie Garcia, Carvana founder and CEO. "We're looking forward to bringing unparalleled customer service, great selection and great prices to Provo area residents."

Carvana now offers as-soon-as-next-day vehicle delivery to customers in 278 cities across the U.S.

About Carvana (NYSE: CVNA)
